

Use Case Diagram

(Detailed information below)

Components

Actor / User (Stick Person):

The actor in our diagram is a gamer. They are the focal point of our website. The main purpose of the website is to attract gamers to use and buy Ubisoft games / products.

System / Subject (The Blue Rectangle):

The system in our diagram is the Ubisoft website. The website is a platform that anyone can visit. It allows its users to browse games, purchase games, and contact Ubisoft.

Use Cases (The Blue Ovals):

The system has 8 use cases, 3 of which are the main focus of our system:

MAJOR

1. Account Management / Login

- a. One of the main use cases is ability to login to Ubisoft and manage your games.
- b. This allows users to view and download their purchased games.

2. Contact Us / Report

- a. Another main use case gives the users the ability to contact support or report any issues they face to Ubisoft.
- b. This allows users to submit reports on bugs that they encounter during their playtime.

- c. This allows users to submit reports on other players that are not following Ubisoft's rules.
- 3. Game Store
  - a. The final main use case is the ability to visit the store page and view games.
  - b. This allows users to purchase released games.
  - c. This allows users to pre-order games.

MINOR

- 1. View Purchased Games
  - a. This allows users to view their games after logging into their Ubisoft Account.
  - b. Included within the Login feature of the system.
- 2. Report Other Users
  - a. This allows users to report other players and user for misconduct.
  - b. Included within the Report Issues feature of the system.
- 3. Report Bugs
  - a. This allows users to report prevalent bugs within the games.
  - b. Included within the Report Issues feature of the system.
- 4. Purchase New Games
  - a. This allows users to purchase games that been released.
  - b. Included within the Purchase Games feature of the system.
- 5. Purchase Upcoming Games
  - a. This allows users to purchase games that are upcoming and have not been released.
  - b. Included within the Purchase Games feature of the system.